TEN CENTS PER WEEK

HIGH SCHOOL GYM ON UPPER FLOOR OF WASHINGTON

It is up to the Board to Decide Whether Room Shall be Fixed for This Purpose and Whether Plan is Practicable at All

SUPT. CARNAGEY'S OPINION.

It is "up to" the building committee to say whether a conversion of Washington school attic into a gymnasium is practicable, and as soon as the school board meets again, the matter will be referred to this committee with request that an inspection and report follow as soon as possible.

There are many supports in the attic but these can be safely removed. The width of the attic is 19 feet, rather narrow, but it can be made to answer for basket ball, which requires a great deal of floor room. There are enough windows in the attic to furnish sufficient light, but if more light is needed, skylights can be cut in with little cost.

"The only question in my mind," said Superintendent Carnagey, "is whether the ceiling of the third floor rooms will stand the strain. If another floor is built, I believe the plastering will remain intact. This, however, is the point we desire the committee to decide. On the committee is Contractor Karnes, and he should be able to tell us."

It is thought the expense will be comparatively little. The object is to fit out the attic for a permanent "gym", and money appropriated by the school board can be increased by football receipts, basket ball receipts, and entertainments given by classes.

MRS. HARTRIDGE FOUND.

Wife of Former Counsel of Harry Thaw in Sanitarium.

New York, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Clifford W. Hartridge, whose name has been on the books of the police department for several days as that of a missing person, her husband having asked the police to send out a general alarm for the discovery of her whereabouts, is reported to be in a private hospital in this city. Her presence there is said to have been known to members of her own family, although her husband has been kept in ignorance of the fact.

Mrs. Hartridge went to the hospital to have a surgical operation performed, and her stay in the institution will probably be prolonged several weeks. The operation she sought to have performed was not of a particularly dangerous character.

Neutrals and Torpedoes.

The Hague, Oct. 10.—Oct. 10.—The eighth sitting of the peace conference today discussed the rules for laying of submarine mines and the convention concerning the rights and duties of neutrals in time of war. The mines convention had been adopted unanimously with reserves by several powers, when Sir Ernest Satow, Great Britain, read a declaration saying that Great Britain did not consider that the convention afforded sufficient protection of the rights of neutrals to navigate safely, which, he said, was more pressing than the necessity for belligerents to spread mines over the seas. Sir Ernest added that Great Britain did not consider the convention to be a definite solution of the problem.

STEAMER BURNS WHILE TEMPEST RAGES ON THE SEA

Disastrous Fire in New York City.
New York, Oct. 10.—Hundreds of lives were endangered and thousands of persons thrown into a panic and 125 electric cars destroyed and property loss to the extent of $400,000 caused by a fire in the Fourteenth street car barns early today. Firemen working on the car barn barely escaped when the floor above them came down with a crash. A few minutes later the Fourteenth street wall of the building collapsed. From that time on it was merely drowning the flames in the barn and several adjoining tenements which caught fire to stop the blaze.

Fatal Wreck in Austria.

Vienna, Oct. 10.—An express train collided with a freight near Buda Pest today. Ten persons are reported killed and 30 hurt, many probably fatally. The collision occurred on a high embankment. The force of the collision threw them into a deep ditch. Fire broke out in the passenger coaches and is responsible for many deaths.

Bride Slays To Save Husband.
Danielsville, Ga., Oct. 10.—Mrs. Fannie Williams, a bride of six weeks, seeing that her husband was being worsted in a fight with his cousin, A. B. Williams, secured a revolver and killed the cousin.

WAS IT CAPTAIN OF POLICE, OR WAS IT CAPITOL POLICE, OFFERED TO CHIEF COLLINS?

Proposition Was Made to Him and Blotter Attests Subject of Conversation

CAPTAIN POLICE $1,500.

Scrawled across a blotter in the office of Chief of Police Collins are tell-tale words, and they gave the first clew to the story of a deal that fell through, because it takes two to make a bargain.

Two days ago The Sun published the story that Chief of Police Collins had been offered a position as captain of the Paducah police. The offer was made by Tom Harrison's friends, but The Sun did not pretend to say whether or not Mr. Harrison authorized the offer. The Sun did say, that Chief Collins turned down the offer.

Yesterday evening the following statement from Mr. Harrison appeared in the News-Democrat, after he had been offered space in The Sun:

"The statement that I have made a promise of appointment to any one, or that any person by my authority has done so for me is untrue. My policy has been and now is, to steadfastly refuse a promise of appointment to any one. My friends know this to be true. Whenever and wherever the expediency of rescinding this policy has been discussed the matter was instantly dismissed by the tell tale blotter.

the hands of the mayor and placing it in the hands of the governor.

Several local politicians were talking with Governor Beckham and others concerning the advisability of adopting the metropolitan system for Paducah, when the purpose of ousting Chief Collins, announced as the Harrison program, came up. Several deplored the proposal, and they fell a-talking of what could be done for Chief Collins to make him feel good about it.

Someone suggested that the chief is a good man and should not be dropped. Others concurred, and then the happy suggestion was made, that he would just fit in as capitol police.

According to those on the inside, Governor Beckham took no part in the conversation at this point. But, be that as it may, they got around Chief Collins Sunday and placed the bait before him; but, when he declined to bite, they failed to remove every particle of the bait, and some explanation had to be made about the tell tale blotter.

Tortured by Highwaymen.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 10.—Otto Hentze, traveling salesman of New York, was found by a policeman this morning tied to a telephone pole in a state of collapse from dozens of burns on his face, neck, arms and legs. He says he was held up by three men with revolvers, who tied him to a pole and stuck litigated cigars against his flesh, until he finally gave them his money, amounting to over $100.

"I said I am not going to get out and work this year. I am going to vote, that is all."

It Was Capitol Police.

Cleveland, Oct. 10.—Chief Collins is corroborated by others present at the time, but the explanation is made that he is mistaken in the position. He was offered the position of capitol police at Frankfort. And this is the story related, which reveals further plans of the local ring in the event James P. Smith is elected mayor—to put Paducah on the metropolitan system, taking the power of appointment out of in the caboose of his train at an early hour this morning he found his trousers cut, his watch and chain and money gone and his shoes slit to pieces. It was all done while he slept, and no clew to the identity of those guilty was left. Walker came in with engine, 906, pulling an Illinois Central test train of 2,480 tons weight. He went into track No. 2 in the shop yards and waited until he got orders to leave the train. Going into the warm caboose he took off his shoes to sleep. His loss will amount to $100.

Commander Root and his party will be here October 15.

POWER OF NOBLES IN PARLIAMENT OF HUNGARY BROKEN

Budapest, Oct. 10.—With business at a stand-still and all shops closed, many workmen are engaged in a demonstration in more than 150 cities. The Hungarian parliament on this opening day's session, had the significance of a general demand for universal suffrage illustrated in manner, which it can hardly ignore. Today's demonstration probably will amount to a peaceful revolution, which will modernize Hungary, destroying the power of the nobles.

BRYAN WILL SPEAK.

Indianapolis, Oct. 10.—Before Thanksgiving day William Jennings Bryan will give his attitude on the presidential situation, he said early today. There will be no misunderstanding as to his policy.

MONUMENT TO THE FAITHFUL SLAVES IS PROPOSED AT A STATE MEETING OF VETERANS

Tennessee Association of Camps and Bivouacs' Recommend Suggestion to Reunion Next Year as Fitting Tribute

DR. W. T. BOLLING SPEAKS.

Covington, Tenn., Oct. 10.—This is the day of the association of Confederate Camps and Bivouacs. Dr. W. T. Bolling, of Paducah, and Gen. J. W. Apperson, of Memphis, delivered addresses at the court house at 10 o'clock in the morning. At 1:30 o'clock there was a reunion of survivors of the Fifty-first Tennessee at the court house, together with the widows and children of members of that noted regiment.

Gen. George W. Gordon, of Memphis, offered and the association adopted, two resolutions, one asking that the south raise a monument to the faithful slaves who stayed at home and took care of the women and children while the men were at the front; and the second that the state pension laws be so amended, as to grant pensions to the body servants and other attachés who followed the officers and privates, their masters, during the war. This is the first time in history that such action has been taken, and as the resolutions will be sent, by order of the association, to the general reunion at Birmingham next year, they will become an interesting question before that body.

New Rival for Senate Seat.

Olney, Ill., Oct. 10.—Local Republicans are in a predicament over the senatorial contest between Albert J. Hopkins and former Senator William E. Mason.

The former is accused of ingratitude to the "Yates crowd" and with being an apologist for Mormonism because of his vote in the Reed Smoot case. He is also arraigned for his defense of John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker, whose failure in 1905 was discussed at length in the United States senate.

"Billy" Mason has few political friends in this section, and an effort is under way to gain support for Judge W. G. Cochran of Moultrie county, a former member of the Illinois general assembly.

Delightful Social Occasion.

The Misses Brenton, 1305 South Eighth street, entertained most pleasantly last evening at their home, a number of their friends. Airy, Fairy Lillian Has Public Sale, But She is Not Broke. By No Means

New York, Oct. 10.—If Teddy Solomon in all his glory had walked into those upper Fifth Avenue auction rooms this afternoon he would have been surprised. Certainly Mr. Solomon, who is a former husband of Lillian Russell, was never arrayed like those rooms, in which were displayed articles of art and virtu now belonging to his former wife, but to be disposed of later in the week to the highest bidders. And it is just possible that he might have remarked:

"Behold the Lillian of Weber and Fields (formerly.)"

He might, but it's to be hoped not. It would be, of course, highly rash to conclude that just because Miss Russell is selling her junk de luxe it follows that she's broke. Nothing of the kind. She says herself:

"I am disposing of my objects of art because I am going away from here. I am going on a long trip around the world, and I do not wish them to be left to the ravages of time and all the early Grand Rapids furniture

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

Every one should take a tonic in the Spring; their systems require it. The blood has become thick and sluggish with the accumulations left in the system from the inactive, indoor life and from the heavy, rich foods of the Winter season. The blood, being in this unnatural and disordered condition, is unable to furnish the body with the increased amount of nourishment necessary for the more energetic life of Spring and Summer, and the system suffers from debility, weakness, nervousness, indigestion, loss of appetite, and many other unpleasant symptoms of a disordered blood circulation. When the system is in this run-down and disordered condition it is not safe to take unknown concoctions, sarsaparillas, compounds, etc., because they usually contain potash or some other equally strong and harmful mineral ingredient, which acts unfavorably and often dangerously on the depleted, weakened system at a time when it needs gentle and natural stimulation to throw off the impurities and recuperate its lost energy. S.S.S. is appropriately called Nature's tonic. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks from the great storehouse of forest and field, selected for their purifying and health-restoring qualities, and as it does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form it is perfectly safe for young or old. S.S.S. acts directly on the blood, ridding it of all impurities and poisons, and restoring the lost properties of rich, nutritive strength so that it is able to supply the system with the healthful, invigorating energy needed to pass the trying season of the year. Its action is the most pleasant, prompt and satisfactory of all tonics, and those who feel the need of such a medicine will do well to commence the use of S.S.S. at once. S.S.S. restores lost energy, relieves the tired, worn-out feeling, helps the appetite, aids digestion, and adds tone and vigor to the system. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

her ideal, Nora frees herself from the marital yoke in a declaration of independence, as startling a piece of writing as has been done in a century.

Helmer, the husband, fails to grasp the magnitude of the sacrifice of which Nora is capable, and in his limits, sees Ibsen's opportunity for the development of the play.

To save his health and to obtain money to do this, Nora forges her father's name to a note which turns up in the hands of an unscrupulous man. The note proves Nora's undoing, as she had hidden the knowledge of it from her husband, the man she sought to benefit. When her act has been made clear to him, he casts her off, only to take her back in his favor when the danger of exposure had passed.

But when her husband declined to assume the responsibility for the signature as Nora had expected him to do, she realized his limits, saw clearly his selfish nature and in a stormy scene declared herself free. The miracle, as she so termed her husband's expected act of responsibility, did not take place and in her disappointment in the man gave him up as well as her children.

In this scene, Miss Corcoran triumphs. Her doll-like nature sloughs off as she stands revealed as the woman who dares the unconventional. The critics are in a unit in declaring that Miss Corcoran as Nora, has set a higher mark than any living actress.

Young Buffalo.

Charles E. Blaney's great production, "Young Buffalo, King of the Wild West," will be presented at the Kentucky October 11. While the melodramatic features are many, the comedy element is strong, and many laughable situations are presented.

Mr. Blaney has been fortunate in securing a company extremely well suited to the demands made upon them, and the story is told in a striking and convincing manner. The scenic equipment is most elaborate and true in every detail. The company numbers 30 people, among whom are many favorites. A band of real Indians and a number of frontier characters.

Shakespearean Treat.

In making a special price to the schools of this city for Mr. Charles B. Hanford's magnificent production of "The Merchant of Venice," Saturday, October 12, Mr. F. Lawrence Walker, business manager for Mr. Hanford and one time Shakespearean actor of note, states that this is an unusual concession on the company's part, and he wishes it to be accepted by the city of Paducah as an appreciation from Mr. Hanford and himself of the healthy patronage with which they have always been favored in this city.

While Mr. Hanford's productions have always been eminently satisfying and have from year to year been a feature of the local theatrical season, his offering for the season 1907-08 is by far his most ambitious effort from both a standpoint of scenic effects and support, and his appearance in Shakespeare's two great plays will be one of the notable productions of the season. "The Merchant of Venice" is the matinee bill and "Anthony and Cleopatra" at night.

Mahara's Minstrels.

Mahara's minstrels, composed of 20 people, male and female, presents only the finest of entertainments by the best of selected artists and assembly of sweet singing colored people in catchy music, light comedy, dancing unexcelled, perfect instrumental music, beautiful scenery, costumes and light effects. Comedy that is clean, wholesome, perfect and delightfully pleasing. Not a dull moment, making in all a high-class, enjoyable evening's pleasure. This company will appear on Monday, October 14, at the Kentucky. The entire balcony will be reserved for colored patrons.

Postage on Post Cards.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Post cards enclosed in any kind of covering must be paid for at regular letter postage, according to an order just issued by the third assistant postmaster general. Some time ago one of our subscribers asked for the postal regulations on this subject, which was then under consideration. The order of the third assistant postmaster general follows:

"Post cards and postal cards mailed under cover of sealed envelopes (transparent or otherwise) are chargeable with postage at the first class rate—two cents an ounce of fraction thereof. If enclosed in unsealed envelopes, they are subject to postage according to the character of the message—at the first class rate if wholly or partly in writing, or the third class rate (one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof) if entirely in print, and the postage should be affixed to the envelopes covering the same."

"Postage stamps affixed to such cards enclosed in envelopes having an opening exposing the stamps cannot be recognized in payment of postage thereon."

"However, where such cards, properly addressed and prepaid—bearing no matter rendering them unaffordable under postmaster general's orders Nos. 146 (par. 5) and 539 (par. 4) when sent openly in the mails—are enclosed in envelopes, it will be assumed that they were inadvertently placed under cover, and they will be removed therefrom, and dispatched without additional payment of postage."

TALK OF SEWERS AFFECT VALUES

Lindsey Says Land is Held
High in Sewer District
No. 3.

Property Owners on North Side Protest Against Assessment for Sewers.

THE BOARDS WILL INVESTIGATE

An hour and a half session of the general council in committee of the whole last night resulted in a decision to personally inspect all territory embraced in proposed sewer district, No. 3, to ascertain that portion of it needing sewerage.

Many property owners were present and made speeches, and the matter was thoroughly discussed in every detail by property owners and board members. At the same time of inspection of sewer district, No. 3, the members will also inspect the sanitary dumping station with a view of establishing a permanent dumping station. The tour is to be made on Friday afternoon. Councilman Van Meter and property owners furnishing means of conveyance.

Alderman Hannan and Hubbard were absent.

Mayor Yelser stated that he had called the meeting to discuss sewer district, No. 3.

Mayor Yelser was elected chairman and made a full statement regarding the matter, covering action taken by the city from the mere mention of district, No. 3, to the preparation of plans. City Engineer L. A. Washington presented detail map of the proposed district, and explained it thoroughly. The map was prepared by Engineer John Alvord, of Chicago.

Many property owners and real estate men were present to protest against extending sewers into low land, and unplatted, and unimproved property, original plans showing such property to be invaded. Taxpayers objected, because they claim the property is not worth the improvement. To properly open the subject for discussion, Alderman Palmer moved to extend sewer lines "as far as practicable."

Alderman Palmer, who was a member of the board ordering plans for No. 3 sewerage district, stated that the necessity of sewerage had impressed the boards to such an extent that they prepared for district, No. 3, in advance, that no delay might be occasioned when the city was in a condition to finance the improvement. He explained that the best sanitary engineer possible was secured in Mr. John Alvord, who came here, made a personal investigation, and drew his plans from an absolute personal knowledge of conditions here. Alderman Palmer stated that he understood some property embraced in the plans was not improved compared with some portions of the town, yet it is within the city limits and subject to taxation for sewerage improvements. He suggested a remedy: that a main trunk line sewer be run down Trimble street to the river, the cost to be pro-rated among property owners in the entire district. This, he stated, will give an outlet to all north side sewerage which may be built in the future. Then bring in another ordinance, providing for sewerage in subdivisions of district, No. 3. This will embrace all property sufficiently improved to demand and bear the expense of sewerage taxation. He invited criticism of his suggestion.

Mr. Robert Noble, an extensive property owner in district, No. 3, stated that Mr. Palmer's suggestions seemed plausible, but he thought the probable cost of the main trunk line sewer would exceed the value of the land on the extreme north side. He suggested a personal inspection or investigation, by the boards. "It is a matter that must be investigated before you impose such a tax," he concluded.

Mr. R. G. Terrell, another property owner, stated that he would not fight sewerage where needed, but was decidedly opposed to taxing when not necessary, and he did not believe that portions of land embraced in No. 3 would not sell or build on certain property in the district. He declared that adjacent to Mr. Rottgering's property one cannot buy a building lot for $500 per acre. He cited the decrease in Paducah's mortality rate since sewers were installed, and declared heartily in favor of sewerage.

He desired the hardships to rest on the fewest, and suggested to "get together" and come to some equitable agreement.

Alderman Palmer stated: "We were placed here to run the city, and are expected to do so. We are going to build sewers, and are not to let hills and hollows stop us."

He said some property owners are holding to property for its value ten years from now.

Alderman Chanblin stated that Engineer Alvord looked into the far future when he made plans for district No. 3. He said that it is not the intention of the engineer or legislative department to sewer the entire district at once, especially if it works a hardship on anyone. Alderman Chanblin suggested to refer to a committee for an investigation into the costs.

Councilman Williamson was in favor of taxing all the entire city for district No. 3.

Councilman Foreman stated that he preferred to investigate more thoroughly.

Mayor Yelser suggested that the main sewer be built by a general tax, by 4 per cent bonds, payable in 10 or 15 years.

Councilman Duval thought that such an arrangement would precipitate injunction suits, and legal complications.

Alderman Hannan suggested a personal tour of district No. 3, by a joint committee from the boards with property owners both for and against the improvement.

The motion to extend sewers in district No. 3, as far as is practicable, carried, Councilman Williamson voting "nay."

Councilman Van Meter offered to furnish wagon for the members to inspect the territory. Property owners also offered carriages.

The motion to have another committee of the whole meeting on Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to inspect the district carried.

On motion the committee adjourned.

MAY BE MISSING ROSSINGTON
YOUNG WOMAN.

F. R. Tucker Asks Police To Inquire

Chicago.

Fearing that a young woman who mysteriously died in Chicago a few days ago is his daughter, F. R. Tucker, of the Rossington neighborhood, has engaged the services of Paducah police department to secure more detailed information regarding the unfortunate young woman. The name and description fits his daughter minutely.

Miss Lillian Tucker, of Rossington, was about 20 years old, and for a time worked as waitress in a Paducah hotel. She left here for Black Rock, Ark., to visit her sister, but left there some time ago for St. Louis, and has since been missing. In Chicago the body of a young woman was discovered cold in death. Police think she committed suicide, while other reports say she died at the home of a midwife. She gave the name of Lillian Tucker and her residence as western Kentucky.

Detective T. J. Moore has written for more information to the Chicago police.

STEPS ON SCALES; RUINS LIFE.

Farmer Alleges Church Hounded Him
Because He Got Weighed.

Peoria, Oct. 9.—Because, 16 years ago, he yielded to curiosity aroused by his expanding girth and had himself weighed, Rudolph Isch, a Woodford county farmer, alleges he has been hounded ever since by the members of the Amish church. He declares he has been driven from one position after another, his home has been broken up and his fortune dissipated. Today he filed suit against Rudolph Witsig, a wealthy farmer and an elder in the church, for $50,000 damages. Isch says that when he was excommunicated from the church for violating its rules by getting weighed members of his family were forbidden to eat with him or to have anything to do with him.

The Neophyte.

The candidate for initiation into the Illustrious Order of Whangdoodles had been tossed in a blanket, subjected to a haircut with a pair of sheep shears, compelled to walk on a gravel path with bare feet, and the performance wound up with his sliding down an inclined plane and splashing into a tank of water at the bottom.

Then he stood up before a high dignitary, who thus addressed him:

"Stranger, you have safely passed the ordeal of introduction into this ancient and honorable order, and we half you as a tried and well beloved brother."

"Brother," sputtered the shivering wretch, his voice trembling with indignation. "Darn yer picture, if you treat a brother this way, I'd like to know what you'd do to some feller you had it in fer!"—Chicago Tribune.

Too often the error of a minute becomes the sorrow of a lifetime.

Bishop Woodcock Notable in Richmond.

The Right Reverend Charles E. Woodcock, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Kentucky, is one of the distinctive figures at the Triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church now in session at Richmond, Va. The resemblance between Bishop Woodcock and the Lord Bishop of London is said to be quite striking in many ways. Kentuckians at Richmond are very proud of the impression made by their bishop on all, the charm of his personality, bearing and eloquence is second to none. Of Bishop Woodcock a Washington, D. C., correspondent says:

"Bishop Woodcock, of Louisville, made a brilliant impression in his strong, sturdy talk before the international convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at D. A. R. Hall. His address was one of the notable features of the affair. The bishop also preached in Washington last Sunday to a large congregation. Bishop Woodcock, Bishop Burton, of Lexington diocese, and others of the clergy and laity here to the St. Andrew's Brotherhood meeting and to the grand cathedral celebration from Kentucky, met with much social distinction during their sojourn at the capital."

Surprise Party to Miss McCandless.

A pretty surprise party was given Miss Hazel McCandless yesterday afternoon in the Palmer House parlor by number of her friends. It was arranged by Miss Eva Bauer and was a most happy occasion. Euchre was played and the first prize was captured by Miss Rosebud Hobson, who presented to Miss Virginia Bennett, of Danville, Ky. The second prize went to Miss Mamie Bauer. Miss Ethel Sights kept the score. The tables were arranged in the parlors which were prettily decorated with flowers in a color scheme, green and white. After the game delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. McCandless to the secret by the girls. Mrs. McCandless was assisted by Mrs. Percy Paxton and Mrs. Wheeler Campbell. Mrs. Paxton poured the chocolate. The parlor presented a charming scene with the coteries of pretty girls who were: Miss Virginia Bennett, of Danville; Miss Henry Allcott, Miss Corinne Wingard, Miss Elsie Dodge, Miss Ethel O'Brien, Miss Lucyette Soule, Miss Rosebud Hobson, Miss Katherine Donovan, Miss Alma Kopf, Miss Katie Bauer, Miss Mamie Bauer, Miss Eva Bauer, Miss Ethel Sights, Miss Gladys Coburn, Miss Nella Hatfield, Miss Hazel McCandless.

CUBS VICTORS IN SECOND OF SERIES

Win From Detroit Tigers by Score of 3 to 1.

Slow Pitching and Several Slight Accidents Delay Game For Two Hours.

HOW THE BATTLE WAS WON.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The Chicago National league team defeated Detroit, pennant winners of the American League, in the second of the series for the world's championship yesterday afternoon. The score was 3 to 1. Slow pitching and several slight accidents caused the contest to drag out after two hours, the delay trying the patience of the big crowd which again filled almost every inch of seating room. The local team discarded the new gray uniforms in which they appeared yesterday, appearing in their clean white home uniforms. The change seemed to put them more at ease and also apparently benefited the Detroit players, for both teams played more steadily than on the opening day. After the first four and one-half innings had dragged through an hour and thirty-five minutes, some sparkling fielding, sharp hitting and base running hastened the contest to an end. Mullin and Pfeister were the pitchers and Payne went behind the bat in place of Schmidt otherwise the team lined up the same as on the preceding day. Schmidt's retirement was due primarily to his inaccurate throwing, but in this respect the change brought small improvement, as five stolen bases credited to the local team testifies. Playing conditions were improved, the crowd numbering 21,901 as against over 24,000 yesterday, while the warm sunshine and the absence of the chilly breeze of the first day kept the spectators and players in more comfort. What wind there was blew across the diamond and aided the play more than hindered it. Rossman, whose hitting was the real feature of the contest, scored the first run of the game in the second inning. Chicago tied the score in its half of the inning while Mullin was giving a queer exhibition of poor and good pitching. Kling, Evers and Schulte singled in succession filling the bases, with none out. Then Tinker drew a base on balls, forcing Kling home. Right there Mullin suddenly regained control of his curves, striking out Pfeister and Slagle, while the best Sheppard could do was a puny grounder to Schaefer. The winning runs came in the fourth. Tinker's hit bounded off Mullin's glove. He went to second on a sacrifice and stole third. O'Leary fumbled Slagle's grounder, Tinker scoring. Slagle stole second and came the rest of the way home on Sheppard's two base hit past first base. After that fast fielding prevented any further scoring.

The score follows:

Slagle, cf	1	1	3	0	0

"Well," said the captain hesitatingly, "there's our diplomatic service."

"Utterly useless. One man is a Russian and the other an Englishman. Diplomacy not only can do nothing, but won't even try," cried Kate triumphantly.

"Yet," said the captain, with little confidence, "although the two men are foreigners, the two girls are Americans."

"We don't count; we've no votes," said Kate. "Besides, Dorothy tried the diplomatic service and could not even get accurate information from it. Now, father, third time and out."

"Four balls are out, Kate, and I've only fanned the air twice. Now, girls, I'll tell you what I'd do. You two come with me to Washington. We will seek a private interview with the president. He will get into communication with the czar, also privately and outside of all regular channels. The czar will put machinery in motion that is sure to produce those two young men much more effectually and speedily than any cutthroat expedition on a yacht."

"I think," said Dorothy, "that is an excellent plan."

"Of course it is!" cried the captain enthusiastically. "Don't you see the pull the president will have? Why, they've put an Englishman into the bug, and when the president communicates this fact to the czar he will be afraid to refuse, knowing that the next appeal may be from America to England, and when you add a couple of American girls to that political mix-up, why, what chance has the czar?"

"The point you raise, captain," said Dorothy, "is one I wish to say a few words about. The president cannot get Mr. Drummond released because the czar and all his government will be compelled to deny that they know anything of him. Even the president couldn't guarantee that the Englishman would keep silence if he were set at liberty. The czar would know that, but your plan would undoubtedly produce Prince Ivan Lermontoff. All the president has to do is to tell the czar that the prince is engaged to an American girl and Lermontoff will be allowed to go."

"But," objected the captain, "as the prince knows the Englishman is in prison, how could they be sure of John keeping quiet when Drummond is his best friend?"

"He cannot know that, because the prince was arrested several days before Drummond was."

"They have probably cracked them both into the same cell," said the captain, but Dorothy shook her head.

"If they had intended to do that they would doubtless have arrested them together. I am sure that one does not know the fate of the other, therefore the czar can quite readily let Lermontoff go, and he is certain to do that at a word from the president. Besides this, I am confident that Jack is not in the Trogzmonoff as I am sure that Drummond is. Johnson said it was a prison for foreigners."

"Oh, Dorothy," cried the captain, with a deep sigh, "if we've got back again to Johnson"— He waved his hand and shook his head.

The maid opened the door and said, looking at Dorothy:

"Mr. Paterson and Mr. Johnson."

"Just show them into the morning room," said Dorothy, rising. "Captain Kempf, it is awfully good of you to have listened so patiently to a scheme of which you couldn't possibly approve."

"Patiently!" sniffed the daughter.

"Now I want you to do me another kindness."

She went to the desk and picked up a piece of paper.

"Here is a check I have signed—a blank check. I wish you to buy the yacht Walrus just as she stands and

Wife of Millionaire Confessed That She Became Servant to Steal

Chicago Oct. 10.—In a remarkable confession to the police last night Mrs. Charles L. Romadka, of Milwaukee, wife of a millionaire manufacturer, admitted that she was responsible for a series of burglaries and petty thefts that have baffled the authorities for weeks. Mrs. Romadka's confession was the latest development following her arrest for robbery committed at the home of C. E. Burk, where jewelry valued at more than $1,000 was taken. She implicated in her peculations a negro, Albert Jones, and a man named as Ralph Smith. The former is under arrest and the police are searching for the latter.

She tells of several instances where she answered advertisements for servants and then robbed the families. Attorney J. F. Donovan, of Milwaukee, who represents the woman's husband, will defend her in court. Mrs. Romadka went to Milwaukee when she was eighteen years of age. After a short courtship she married Romadka, the ceremony taking place at Oshkosh. According to the attorney, the new life into which her millionaire husband introduced her, turned the woman's head.

She persuaded her husband to let her live in Chicago, where he kept her liberally supplied with money. She confessed that she turned the stolen property over to Jones.

RAILROAD NOTES

An improvement to prevent delays to the fast Paducah-Cairo Illinois Central passenger train, No. 801, which leaves here at 6:15 p. m., daily, has been ordered, and work will begin at once. It is the extension of a spur track to the east side of the north station platform, and when finished it will make it possible for the Cairo train to leave without interference from the fast Louisville-Memphis train or other trains.

The siding known as the "Katter-John brick spur," running from the main shop lead to Caldwell avenue, will be extended straight to the end of the station. This will enable yard men to back the train to the station and load without interfering with trains on the main line. Often the Cairo train is delayed in getting out by the fast Louisville-Memphis passenger train being late. The Cairo train connects with No. 8, a fast through train from New Orleans to St. Louis and Chicago, and a few minutes means a great deal in making connections at Cairo.

Mrs. C. W. Wooldridge, wife of the well known Illinois Central pattern maker, is improving from an attack of fever.

Mr. Harry Judd, the Illinois Central pattern maker, is ill today and unable to be on duty.

Caller Dick Iseman, of the Illinois Central round house, was taken suddenly ill yesterday and forced to lie off.

Passenger trains, Nos. 835 and 836 between Paducah and Cairo, claim to have broken the record for running yesterday on the Cairo extension. The crew was composed of Engineer John Mulvin, Fireman E. L. Brake and Conductor Coburn, and the run to Paducah from East Cairo was made in less than 54 minutes. Mulvin started out late, and made all scheduled stops.

Illinois Central conductors, flagmen and porters must present a more tidy appearance, and the order has been posted on all divisions of the system. It is the result of a recent tour of President T. J. Harahan, of the road. The bulletin in part reads:

"In a recent trip over the system the president noted the untidy appearance of passenger conductors, flagmen and porters, and suggested that they be required to wear neater uniforms and kept dressed up to the rules." The bulletin follows with orders to all employees in the passenger traffic department to see that the order is carried out. Conductors are held responsible for the appearance of their subordinates. The bulletin is signed by Trainmaster Gallaway, of the Fulton district of the road, and similar orders have been posted on other divisions.
